For maximum efficiency, anyone who operates an OIL/WATER SEPARATOR UNIT should have it cleaned annually — check your local requirements—some require more frequent cleaning. After a long and busy year, now is the best time to have ISI professionally clean the unit to remove sludge and wastewater.

Your unit should be cleaned BEFORE sludge build-up causes drains to back up, odor from bacteria growth creates an undesirable work place and oil layer builds up and starts discharging to sewer. Regularly scheduled service will help eliminate these issues.
